GENEVA, Nov. 2.—Premier Pierre Laval today definitely placed France's obligation to the League of Nations above her allegiance to Italy as the league's coordinating committee of 52 nations rushed to completion plans for economic isolation of Italy.

Laval's action, finally disposing of an Italian hope that the widely-heralded Franco-Italian agreement of last January would induce France to "go easy" in penalizing Italy for warring against Ethiopia, was taken during a momentous meeting of the Committee of 52.

Highlights of the meeting were:
1. Dr. Paul Van Zeeland, premier of Belgium, proposed Great Britain and France be granted a league mandate to seek a peaceful solution of the Italo-Ethiopian controversy. Salvador de Madariaga of Spain supported the proposal.

2. Sir Samuel Hoare, British foreign minister, stated peace conversations had been fruitless to date, and that "to uphold the principles of the covenant and of collective security, no other course is possible" except to apply economic sanctions against Italy.

3. The committee unanimously set November 18 as the date for application of economic sanctions, altering a previous decision to start them on November 15 so that the various customs departments could begin the necessary new systems on a Monday.

PA NEW OBSERVES

From the fact that one of a trio of bandits who held up the bank at Conneautville yesterday was dressed as a hunter, there is some disposition to believe that the trio may have been the same that robbed the State liquor store in this city, a couple of weeks ago. One of the gang that took part in the robbery here were a lumber jack outfit that could easily pass for a hunter's garb.

Dear Pa New:
I have a request at hand that asks me if the willow tree is a native of this country. When Benjamin Franklin was a young man he found on the streets a piece of an old woven basket. Being interested in the yellow wood he made inquiries and found that the basket had come from England, and it was made of willow, so he sent for some willow sprouts. He planted them and as the willow is a fast growing tree, other people became interested in this tree and they obtained sprouts from Mr. Franklin and planted them and that is how we have so many willows throughout our land.

ADDIS ABABA, Nov. 2.—The strangest circus ever to move across the face of Ethiopia will leave Addis Ababa bound for Dessye next week when an army of journalists and photographers under government guard quit the capital, hoping eventually to get to the northern front.

The government spokesman formally announced last night that correspondents could leave with their mule caravans early next week, probably Tuesday.

Some In Motor Trucks
Correspondents with motor trucks will follow after eight days, so as to arrive at Dessye the same time as the mule trains.

Emperor Haile Selassie may or may not be with the truck caravan, but in any case, whether he goes by automobile or airplane, he is expected to time his arrival at Dessye to coincide with that of the correspondents.

Magazine Writer Suicide Victim

Charles F. P. Buckwalter, Dies
In Blast In Philadelphia Apartment

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—More than a hundred occupants of a large West Philadelphia apartment house were forced to flee in night-clothing today when an explosion and fire followed the purported illuminating gas suicide of Charles F. P. Buckwalter, described as a well-known magazine writer.

Buckwalter, police said, asphyxiated himself by placing his head in an oven after turning on the gas. Apparently, the pilot light on the range ignited the gas-filled room, causing a detonation that shook the apartment building.

Window frames and doors were blown out of Buckwalter's suite and his body charred almost beyond recognition before firemen succeeded in checking the flames.

Dorcy Is Given Carnegie Medal

IS ONE OF EIGHT
HONORED IN STATE

Roger Phillip Dorcy, aged 24, of 102 West Lincoln avenue, was one of eight Pennsylvania persons, whose heroic acts during the past year were recognized by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission, and who received a bronze medal for his brave act, it was announced by the Commission today.

Dorcy, it will be remembered, risked his life in an attempt to protect a group of school children who were in the pathway of an automobile which had broken loose from its parking spot on a hillside, in Butler.

Dorcy drives a truck for a biscuit company. As he was making deliveries in Butler, he noticed the driverless car starting down the hill. He leaped from his truck to the running board of the machine, which suddenly swerved and crushed him against his own truck. He sustained injuries about the arms and legs which disabled him for a period of seven and a half weeks.

The commission awarded two silver and 45 bronze medals in all. Eleven of the heroes lost their lives and the medals for their acts went to their kin. Pensions and grants for educational and other purposes were also made by the commission.

To Election Boards

Mindful and appreciative of the fine co-operation in recent elections of the precinct election boards in the city and county, The News is issuing this appeal for the same kind of co-operation on the general election of next Tuesday.

Please telephone returns from your precinct, or send them to The News, as soon as totals in any contest are available, and when the total count for all offices and issues is completed.

In this way, a service will be rendered to the public, and an earlier idea of the way the election will result will be obtained.

More Earthquakes? Experts Disagree

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The effete east calmly went back to the business of ordinary living today when there were no recurrences of Friday morning's earthquake shocks.

Two experts at various points in the east had predicted additional shocks, while two others took contrary views.

In the meantime hundreds of New York City policemen, firemen, building, subway, tunnel and telephone inspectors were completing a checkup of all the metropolis' structures. They reported skyscrapers, transportation lines, lighting, water, heating and communication systems undamaged.

Metropolitan residents were given further assurances last night when architects, engineers, public officials and seismologists declared that the far-famed skyscrapers would be immune to any seismic shock equal to those yet recorded on earth. Wooden buildings, old buildings, and frame structures of all sorts would be easily demolished by a big tremor, they admitted, but the steel and concrete overloads of the financial and midtown sections would withstand almost any type of quake.

Erie Police Baffled By Kiss Bandit Pair

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 2.—Every available policeman in the city was called to duty today after Erie's "kiss bandits," believed to be sex maniacs, continuing their reign of terror against women, kidnapped and attacked a 14-year-old girl.

The victim, Anna Zikowski, 14, said the pair broke into her home last night, attempted to force her to write a ransom note and knocked her unconscious when she refused. She remembered nothing further, she said, until she regained her senses in the hospital here, surrounded by internes.

Beaten Unconscious
The girl was found gagged and unconscious near a paper factory an hour after the men had entered her home, according to police.

Authorities believed the assailants were the same men who have eluded vigilantes and police for several weeks and a few nights ago attacked Helen Johnson, 20, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Virginia Johnson, an expectant mother.

Hospital attaches said Anna showed evidence of criminal attack.

The girl described the bandits as about 25 years old. One was five feet tall, slim and wore glasses and a hat, she said. The other was about five feet, two inches, dark and poorly dressed, according to the girl.

As feeling continued to mount over the latest outrage Police Chief Christoph recalled every available officer for duty in an effort to round up the pair.

Local Election Campaign Near Final Efforts

City And County Officers To Be Named At Balloting Tuesday

SOME CONTESTS
BELIEVED CLOSE

New Castle To Vote On Huge Bond Issue And
Sunday Movies

Winding up with considerable heat and excitement, the general election campaign of the Republican and Democratic parties finishes tonight. At least it finishes to all intents and purposes. Some work will be done Sunday and Monday but after the campaigning which has been carried on since early in October the average voter has probably made up his mind and the week-end will bring few changes.

For New Castle and Lawrence county the election is the most important in many years. A judge must be elected, three county commissioners, a county treasurer, a prothonotary and clerk of courts, and a county controller. In the city a mayor is to be elected, two councilmen, a city treasurer, and three school directors.

Other Issues

To add to the interest and excitement New Castle has two special election issues to pass upon, a proposed bond issue of $1,500,000 for a municipal electric distribution plant and the matter of Sunday movies. Ellwood City also has the Sunday movie question before it. Over the entire state two Supreme Court justices and a superior court judge are to be elected. In the case of the Supreme Court the winners are already decided as there is but one nominee on each of the major tickets and two to elect.

While there is interest in every office the fight for judge has overshadowed the others, and the fight on the proposed bond issue and the fight for and against Sunday movies has further drawn attention away from such offices as mayor and the other offices.

Tonight is the beginning of the pre-election lull. Candidate and voter alike will get a brief respite before the battling of Tuesday, November 5.

The candidates whose names will appear on the official ballots are as follows:

State Ticket
Justice of Superior Court: Horace Stern, Republican; H. Edgar Barnes, Democrat; George W. Hartman, Socialist; Charles Palmer, Prohibition.

Judge of Superior Court: Jesse E. B. Cunningham, Republican; Robert L. Myers, Democrat; William Adams, Socialist; Ida G. Kast, Prohibition.

Donald J. Barnsley and P. B. B. Jones were appointed overseers at the coming election in the fourth district of Union township, upon an unusual petition presented to court by John Sniezek, Walter S. Sniezek, Stanley Boron and Mike Peplowski.

The petitioners set forth that James Donegan is judge of election in that district, and at the recent primary the petitioners were duly appointed watchers. It is claimed that when the primary was counted Donegan, who was reading out the ballots, stood with his back to a wall and in such a position that the petitioners could not see the ballots, and that when he was through reading them off he turned them over to the inspectors face (Continued On Page Two)

FIVE HUNTERS ARE DEAD

Others Injured As Season Opens

Two Of Five Victims Are Killed By Discharge Of Their Own Guns

MUCH GAME IS
BAGGED FIRST DAY

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 2.—A death toll of five stood today as the price Pennsylvania hunters paid for their opening day's search for rabbits, squirrels and game birds.

In addition to at least a score of other hunters were injured when guns accidentally discharged or other animals shot first and looked afterward, and one fatality was chalked up indirectly to the opening of the small game hunting season.

On the other side of the picture, however, were frequent reports of limit catches and full hunting bags. Clear weather today, after yesterday's discouraging cloudiness and rain, put another army of thousands in the fields and woods.

Die By Own Guns
Two of the five hunters killed died from discharge of their own guns. They were Arthur Urey, 31, Greenville, who fell over a log, and Bena Storzinski, 23, Kingston, whose gun went off as he climbed a fence.

The other three victims were Howard Boyer, a Washington relief worker; Francis Shook, 30, Windsor; and William Bachman, 37, of Summit Hill, the first reported victim.

In addition to these five dead, Robert Hawk, 22, Harrisburg, was an indirect hunting victim when his gun went off in his father's restaurant as he was preparing to leave in search for game. The shot killed him instantly.

One of the injured hunters was nothing daunted by his experience of being peppered with buckshot and returned to the fields to bag three rabbits. He was Milkien Rhoades, Progress, the first Dauphin county victim.

CHARACTER CHEST CAMPAIGN ENDS ON FRIDAY NIGHT

visitation and pledge work has been progressing quietly all week, but the reports last night proved that it was most productive.

Latest Pledges.

Since Friday, October 25, the last report night, the workers had pledged an additional $2,891.75. Local industry did contribute a large portion of that, but the team solicitors also did their part.

Anxiously, the campaigners received last night the report from the industrial division which Major Roger W. Rowland led. Mr. Rowland was unable to attend and O. P. Brown reported in his absence.

When Mr. Brown spoke up industry's contribution of $2,048.65—and added that more is yet to come—the crowd expressed its feeling in vigorous applause.

Mr. Brown read the contributions of the industrial concerns, one by one, and it came as good news to the ears of the workers. More plants are expected to make contributions later, he said.

Presiding last night was the campaign's general chairman, Dr. J. J. McIlwaine. The Rev. A. M. Stump, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church and a campaign worker, pronounced the invocation. Each of the three institution presidents, George E. Lyon of the Y. M. C. A., Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser of the Y. W. C. A. and Louis B. Round of the Boy Scouts, spoke after the reports had been heard. With others, who spoke later, they declared for a new campaign of "publicity and information" that will convince New Castle residents of the community loss that would come if the doors would have to close and the program of the Boy Scouts would be all the more curtailed.

During the informal speaking period a number of prominent men and women of the community expressed identical opinions.

While the money report was somewhat discouraging, the spirit of the workers—each and every one—was anything but that.

Talks were also made by Miss Marguerite White, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A., and Robert L. Meermans, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

The final rally of the drive lasted about an hour and 15 minutes and was mostly devoted to the informal discussion as to the future financial support of the three organizations.

Many prominent drive workers felt last night that the campaign total will be boosted to $17,000 before all the records are closed.

Final Reports.

Final reports of the teams follow:

The petitioners claim that Donegan was a candidate for re-election and an interested party. The count showed that Donegan received 172 votes and his opponent, Stanley C. Sniezek 170.

The order appointing the overseers was signed by both Judge R. L. Hildebrand and James A. Chambers. So far as known it is the first case of the kind in Lawrence county.

DYNAMITE AFLOAT IN SAN FRANCISCO BAY

namite fortress by the coast guard patrol boat Glaviota.

Ships Warned.

The drifting dynamite boxes were believed located on the southern arm of the bay, more than a mile from the ferry building and the principal steamer lanes.

The coast guard, on duty throughout the night with powerful searchlights, were not certain, however, whether any of the boxes drifted into the main shipping lanes.

Prison officials at Alcatraz Island, the federal "Devil's Island," where America's most desperate criminals are incarcerated, likewise heard the warning broadcast of the marine department and were on the lookout for any boxes which might be dashed against the solid rock island.

Sunday Movies are UNFAIR

As you travel the highways, you must keep on your own side of the road. Most travelers do keep on their own side. But sometimes you meet a driver who is not satisfied with half the road . . . he wants your side too . . . he crowds you into the ditch. Such people are called "road-hogs." There are also "time-hogs." They are not satisfied to make money six days in every week . . . they crowd in on the other day . . . the day for rest, for home life, for the Church, and for spiritual interests . . . and they would crowd life's supreme values into the ditch that they might have the day for money-making. By voting "NO" on Sunday movies you are saying to them, "Keep on your own side of the road."

By law, by common consent, and by their own choice, practically all lines of business keep open six days in the week and close one day. This is universally considered to be wise and to the advantage of all. But the magnates of Hollywood . . . twelve of whom monopolize about ninety per cent of the motion picture industry in the United States . . . are not willing to accept this common custom and co-operate with the others. They ask for every day of the week, so greedy are they for gain. In other words, they demand that they be made a Special Privilege Industry. By voting "NO" on Sunday movies, you are voting for justice to all business men and merchants and against special privilege for some.

Sunday Movies are UN-AMERICAN

The mothers and fathers . . . in the Catholic and Protestant and Jewish faiths . . . who established this Nation, believed that a civilization could not long endure without a day of rest, free from secular labor and commercialized amusement. They served their youth well. They bequeathed to us the liberty of a day set apart for worship, for rest, for service. Now the movies would steal from us this freedom. By voting "NO" on Sunday movies you are voting for the faith of your fathers and mothers. The time to fight for liberty is before you lose it. A vote "NO" on this issue is a vote for our American liberties.

Sunday Movies are UN-CHRISTIAN

Voltaire once said, "There is no hope of destroying the Christian religion so long as the Christian Sabbath is acknowledged and kept by men as a sacred day." In every land where today there is government by terrorism, the Lord's Day has been done away. Communists are one hundred per cent for using the day for amusement and pleasure. By voting "NO" on Sunday movies, you are voting against Communism in America.

of Automatic Heating

Act now—and you can have all the comforts, conveniences and cleanliness of Whiting Automatic Heating at the lowest cost in history—even lower in most cases than the cost of firing a furnace with coal by hand.

That's true because you can use lower-priced coal with a Whiting Stoker. Many owners say they save from $2 to $3 a ton. And there's also less waste.

Coal always was the cheapest fuel. Gas and oil cost much more. And now you can use even cheaper grades of coal and still get safe, clean, automatic heat as well.

Many thousands of Whiting Stokers are now in operation. Owners everywhere are enthusiastic in praise of their convenience and great economy. You can install one, too, on long, easy, time-payment terms, if you wish.

It Might Be War.

Government Radio?
Col. Ewing's Papers.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

BALDWIN, British prime minister, complains that President Roosevelt does not go far enough in forbidding arms shipments to Italy. He complains also of unpleasant things that Italian newspapers say about England.

Hitler's government complains of the extremely unpleasant things that Winston Churchill, through English newspapers, says about Germany. Everybody is dissatisfied about something.

THE BRITISH say and believe that their attitude toward Italy is based on "our pledged word to the league." He says quite truly: "Modern war between any two powers would be like one of the great convulsions of nature in early geologic ages. The map of the world would have to be redrawn."

Europe may be drifting toward war slowly and surely, as in 1914.

WHATEVER you think about the Ethiopian-Italian problem, you need not envy the Italians, at present slowly making their way across the Danakil Desert, where there is no water and the temperature rises above 150 degrees. In that desert the fierce Assalimara warriors take no prisoners.

What Assalimara warriors do to prisoners would not make pleasant reading, even for the kind-hearted lady who writes:

"It is a shame to take sides against those poor Ethiopians." It seems a shame, and is not pleasant, but it is necessary for somebody to suggest that when a large, useful section of the earth has been devoted to barbarism for several thousand years that is long enough.

WHERE DO YOU LOOK FOR HAPPINESS?

ME—YOU SAY you're unhappy, you say you're the unhappiest man on earth?

YOU—Yes, that's what I said. I was unhappy when I was a youngster, I'm unhappy now, I'll always be unhappy.

ME—What makes you think that?

YOU—Well, it's the way I'm made, and I never get a good break.

ME—What kind of a break are you looking for?

YOU—Well, I don't want to be poor all my life. I don't want to sink in one spot to the end of my days. . . . I want to get out and go places and do things.

ME—Well, who doesn't? . . . But what's that got to do with happiness?

YOU—A lot! When I can't have what I want and can't do what I want to do, then I'm unhappy. . . . Only a natural born sap would be happy when he doesn't get a break. . . . Are you so perfect that you smile when you get a touch break and can't see any happiness ahead?

ME—No, you're right. I moan and I grouch and I get in the dumps and I feel absurd. . . . But I know that the place to look for happiness is not outside of me—but inside. . . . Lasting happiness isn't coming to me from the Island of Ball or some castle in Spain or from a bank account. If it isn't inside of me, if my happiness isn't in my own resources, then for me it isn't anywhere.

YOU—That's a very nice idea, but it doesn't work out.

ME—It isn't a theory, it's a fact. . . . And I'm sorry for you and I'm sorry for myself when we go looking for something a thousand miles away that we ought to be carrying with us.

THE new world naval conference, called for early December, to meet in London, will convene in an atmosphere of international pessimism which would seem to doom it to failure from the very start.

On the theory that a genuine effort for peace should not be lightly regarded, the United States government has accepted an invitation for participation, while skeptical of the possibilities of benefits.

And never before was an attitude of skepticism more easy to justify. With Italy bent on conquest, Germany an armed camp, France at the height of her military power and Great Britain fearful, what chance has limitation of naval armaments?

Premier Baldwin himself admits that Britain must proceed to make herself strong so she can cope with whatever may happen. Not that she will rear for selfish motives. But she must be able to help the league for peace and for mankind.

Against this ominous background, there seems to be no hope that the conference in December will be fruitful even in small measure.

STAR-GAZING MODERNIZED

Of real cultural significance is the popularity of New York's new planetarium. One may safely conclude, indeed, that even so difficult a subject as astronomy contains vast public appeal when presented in an interesting, attractive manner.

Chicago and Philadelphia are among other cities that have had similar experiences with these modern devices for telling the story of the stars. There, too, thousands of people each year eagerly seek an explanation of the wonders of the heavens.

As a means of disseminating knowledge in a most important field of inquiry, the planetarium is of unquestioned educational value. No doubt the time will come when other communities of more than ordinary size will make available this colorful and inspiring means of astronomical instruction, to the end that all the people shall be given accurate, authentic insight into the mysteries of cosmic life.

AUTUMN TWILIGHT IS TRICKY

Autumn comes early to the north woods, already touched by the artistic brush of nature. Not frost, but the ebbing supply of chlorophyll in leaves, is responsible for the delicate tints which blend into a gorgeous painting to making driving an optic festival.

Much emphasis has been laid on the leaf-skidding hazard at this season. In publicity and magazine text we'd like to suggest another element, particularly important at this season.

Autumn twilight is tricky. A smoky haze often develops early in the afternoon, making visibility deceptive and doubtful. The smart thing to do is 'turn on the dim headlights early. Headlights are the cheapest accessory on a car to maintain; to economize on light is downright tragic economy.

Note for yourself on the road, as early some days as 3:30 or 4 p. m., especially in a stretch lined with trees, how difficult it is to see a car approaching from the opposite direction. Then picture your surprise and dismay, upon passing another car ahead of you to have one racing toward you out of the smoky haze suddenly become visible. The answer to that one is lights. Light up early. Let your light so shine that the other fellow may see you coming and vice versa. It's cheap accident prevention insurance.

The easy money belongs to those who have learned that nine people in ten can't say no.

What this country needs isn't laws so much for forcing oaths of allegiance to the Constitution, but compelling people to read it.

MATRIMONY RACKETS SCORED

Although she has been married seven times, has six divorces or annulments, and plans a seventh, Mrs.

Virginia Cogswell, 28-year-old Atlanta, Ga., beauty, hasn't asked for alimony in any case. Coming to the aid of state legislators proposing breach of promise, alienation of affection and alimony laws, she hit these matrimony rackets by declaring: "This movement toward outlawing breach of promise and alienation of affection suits is a step in the right direction. Since so many states are considering the question I would suggest that they add alimony to the list of marriage rackets." In her opinion the only time alimony is necessary is when children are involved.

"ALWAYS THINKING OF HIMSELF"

"Always thinking of himself" is a frequent criticism.

Yet the man is wise who thinks a good deal of himself. Suppose we each devoted ten minutes a day to thinking about ourselves, as some people are said to devote ten minutes to setting-up exercises.

We might inquire, What's good about me? And What's bad about me? What old habits can I break and what new habits can I cultivate that will make me a more agreeable and useful person? Am I wasting too much time? Do I talk too much? Am I spending too much? Am I doing as well as I can, or am I drifting?

Some people make it their business to know all about others, living and dead. In a question-and-answer game they can win against a roomful of people. Let them think more about themselves, in order

An order was sent from Philadelphia to London by a committee of the Pennsylvania assembly for "a good bell of about 2,000 pounds weight," specifying that there be well shaped large letters around it: "Proclaim Liberty Through All the Land Unto All the Inhabitants Thereof." Levit. xxv. 10.

The World At A Glance

Christianity And War.
Debate Stirs England.
Can Two Be Compatible?

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th St.
By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Can one profess Christianity and at the same time support war? That is a question which has been agitating England.

It may yet agitate the United States.

The agitation came into full view, appropriately, at a church congress. George Lansbury, veteran Laborite, and a communist of the Church of England, "shocked" many of those present by asserting: "After nearly four centuries of struggle the Powers of this world took our great religion to their bosom and crushed all spiritual values out of it. So effectively has this been done that today leaders of Religion, on the plea of necessity, support the creation of every foul device in the form of poison gas and scientific machinery for the destruction of human life. Christians of all denominations are organized to carry out mass murder. The most accursed disregard of human life is sanctified and blessed by those who speak to us in the name of our Master, who is the Prince of Peace.

"Prelates of our church publicly regard that our nation has reduced armaments and join in the clamant demand for more and more weapons of destruction. Powerful churches have accepted the message of 'peace on earth, goodwill to men', but have declared that it was only an impracticable ideal. As a consequence war, pestilence and famine have again and again decimated and desolated the world. This brutal, hell-begotten business of war has been blessed by the leaders of religion as a necessary though unpleasant evil."

done by international intervention can really compare with the cruelties which are being daily committed in this criminal enterprise (Italy's invasion of Ethiopia).

"It is not proposed that the nations of the world should land forces and engage the Italians. The suggestion goes no farther than to advocate the cutting off of all the communications between Italy and Abyssinia, and perhaps in the last resort the enforcement of some kind of blockade on Italy. That need not lead to serious fighting unless the Italians should madly decide to go to war with those enforcing the measures."

But—as the "pacifists" point out—"enforcing the measures" means a strong naval blockade, and that usually is interpreted as a measure of war.

FRENCH FASCISTS ATTACK

In the meantime, Great Britain has been the object of serious attacks in France, by French Fascists. Some writers say that the French Fascists have a subsidy from Italian Fascists. Mussolini could place Great Britain in a serious situation if he could turn the French nation against it.

Most outstanding of the British attackers is Henri Beraud, a journalist. He writes for a weekly paper called Gringoire, which claims a circulation of nearly 700,000. Police finally confiscated the most violent issue.

It, however, bespeaks the aroused emotions of thousands of French peasants and small merchants, who urge the downfall of the Republican form of government.

Beraud has a theme of hate for England, which runs through his writings.

SUNDAY SUPPER

Some like the morning meal the most.
The breakfast bacon, eggs and toast.
Some like the noon time lunch and some
The supper when they homeward come.
Some like the dinners pride demands,
With candles red in silver stands;
The food in courses served in state
Upon the family's finest plate.
But as for me, I most delight
In lit-bits served on Sunday night.

I like to go at seven o'clock
To rob the ice-box of its stock;
To pile the kitchen table high
With everything I chance to spy;
The chicken frame, a jar of jam,
The knuckle bone of last week's lamb.

Bread, butter, lettuce, what you will,
Then sit me down and eat my fill.
Oh, I can stuff until I'm sick,
So long as there are bones to pick.

That Sunday supper seems to be
The happiest of meals to me.
An endless stream of chatter flows,
Such as a banquet never knows.
Into the hidden nooks we pry
To pounce upon a wedge of pie,
Or shriek with joy when we behold
A saucer filled with pudding cold;
And thus I venture to suggest
That this is dining at its best.

PACIFISM CHALLENGED

Lansbury's view, however, was challenged by Sir Henry Page Croft, member of parliament. Sir Henry said he could find nothing in Holy Scripture to warrant Lansbury's interpretation that to kill a fellow being was so wicked that "under no provocation whatever should one defend one's women and children or oneself."

Canon H. R. L. Sheppard, on the other hand, differed with Sir Henry. "In my judgment," he said, "the Christian church should outlaw not only war, but all war, and say without equivocation that because war is not only bestial, but wicked, those who persist in it oppose the will of God. There is, in my judgment, no such thing as a righteous war."

He added, even more vigorously: "So long as you retain in any shape or form the idea of war, while you make one single exception to the abhorrence with which you hold the slaughter of man by man, so long may the pacifist of one day be the war minister of another."

If the church is not prepared to take vigorous and drastic action to outlaw war, I do not see how she can claim to be the body of Christ or hope to make peace with her God."

A LEAGUE VIEW

The debate, one of the greatest in England in modern times, was concluded by Lord Cecil with a plea for action against Italy by the League of Nations.

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

By Francine Markel

The front hall, the main entrance to the home, is often the forgotten room, the step-child of the house, into which is placed leftover pieces of furniture. Yet, it is so to speak—the index to your home where your callers receive their first impression of your taste.

As such it should be arranged with every lot as much thought and care as are concentrated upon your inner rooms.

It should be in keeping with the character of your house and its furnishings should co-ordinate with those of the rooms to which it leads, whether they are simple and informal or regal and formal.

Indeed, your front hall should be made into a useful connecting link between the rooms into which it leads. Therefore be certain that it does not contain a heterogeneous collection of odds and ends of furnishings which will present a picture of confusion to your incoming visitors.

THE EDITOR.

Some boys in the school were asked to define an editor. Here are some of the definitions:

"An editor is a man who handles words."

"An editor makes his living out of the English language."

"An editor is somebody who does not do anything himself, and when somebody else does, goes and tells other people about it."

Another gave a more thoughtful definition, whether or not it was original with him: "An editor is a man who has the industry of a beaver and the instincts of a bee."

Patsy Ciccaele Gets Charge Of Shot From Supposed "Unloaded" Gun

Patsy Ciccaele, 21, employed on the Tony Ambrose farm in Mahoning township, was accidentally wounded when a gun in the hands of Leo McClenahan, was discharged Friday afternoon. The shot tore a hole in Ciccaele's hip. He was rushed to a Youngstown hospital, where he is reported to be in a serious condition.

Following the shooting the sheriff's office was notified and Chief Deputy Sheriff Ben Hartland made an investigation. He found that several persons had been engaged in cementing the floor of a barn, and that one of them had been cleaning a gun preparatory to going hunting. The gun had been laid down. It was not supposed to be loaded.

When young McClenahan picked it up it was suddenly discharged, he did not know how. He did not have it to his shoulder and the recoil threw it out of his hands when it was discharged.

So far as Deputy Sheriff Hartland was able to learn, the shooting was purely accidental. While Hartland was at the Ambrosia home word came a blood transfusion would be necessary in an attempt to save the young man's life.

Farmer Kills Woman, Gives Himself Up

(International News Service)
STUBENVILLE, O., Nov. 2.—Joseph Veres, 60, a farmer was held in Jefferson county jail today charged with the murder of Mrs. Samuel Sechrist, 32, whom he allegedly killed in her Hammondville, O., home following a long family feud.

Nursing a bitter grievance for seven years, Veres was said to have entered Mrs. Sechrist's home, shot her twice with a rifle before the eyes of her terror-stricken husband, and then later surrendered. Veres, according to police, said his trouble with the Sechrist's started seven years ago when they built a sewer line through his farm and that his hate re-kindled when he heard Mrs. Sechrist had informed the game protector that his son had been hunting out of season.

W. P. A. Projects Status In New Castle Given By City Engineer

Concerning the status of work projects in the city of New Castle, those under way, as well as those suggested, and not as yet approved, City Engineer Glenn R. Throppe issued a lengthy statement today. The statement goes into detail on the situation and is as follows:

STATEMENT OF WORKS PROGRESS ADMINISTRATION WORK IN THE CITY OF NEW CASTLE

The city of New Castle has submitted to the Works Progress Administration in Harrisburg three projects which have been approved and on which work has been started, namely:

First: A pipe line to the sewage disposal plant in the seventh ward, which has been completed. This project employed about 39 men for one month.

Second: The Croton avenue fence. This work was started about a month ago and, when it is completed, it will have given 48 men employment for two months.

Third: Repairs to the various municipal buildings. This project is now in full course and is most satisfactory. Many useful repairs are being made to the city buildings and the men are working with loyalty and diligence. It is estimated that this work will give employment to 71 men for one month.

These three projects, taken together, when they are completed, will have given employment to 158 men for one month and 48 of that 158 unemployed will have been given employment for two months.

Projects Approved But On Which Work Has Not Been Started.

The city has also submitted to the WPA 15 other projects which have been approved but on these no work has been done. The city is ready to furnish material and tools to proceed with this work as soon as it is convenient for the WPA to furnish the men. These projects are as follows:

First: Stone gutters on unpaved streets. This is perhaps the most important and most available project that has been submitted, as it would employ 291 men for a whole year, or twice that number of men for six months, in putting down signs. It is apparent to anyone who travels the streets that this work ought to be done very soon in order to preserve the signs that were put up formerly at such great expense and it would give employment to 20 men for about two months.

Twelfth: Traffic Count Survey. This is a white collar job and would give 43 unemployed men work for six months.

Thirteenth: Down-spout Survey. This white collar job would give 32 men or women employment for three months.

Fourteenth: Fire Hazard Survey. This white collar job would give employment to 22 men or women for three months.

Fifteenth: Water Street Wall Repair. This work would employ 11 men for one month.

The city has therefore provided projects which have been approved but which have not yet been started or any men furnished to start them, which would employ 961 men for an average of five and a half months or well on into the spring.

Projects Not Approved

The council has always realized that it would be much more satisfactory to the people of New Castle to spend some money on improving unpaved streets than to have it spent anywhere else. The work that was done in the parks would be very fine, if the city had the means to keep up those improvements after they were completed, but the taxpayers certainly would not agree to have any city taxes devoted to the maintenance of this elaborate park system as long as the streets in front of their houses were being washed out and when every summer they are compelled to put up with dust and dirt blowing off the streets into their houses.

The city engineer's office has made plans for the paving of the unpaved residence streets with an inexpensive form of paving, which would be permanent if properly constructed. If the streets could be paved with this kind of paving, the city would be able to save each year $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 in the maintenance of streets. Council has therefore provided means in front of city streets are to be improved with this kind of paving, the necessary material for the paving of the streets. Some of these streets are several blocks long, others are only one block. They are located in all parts of the city. If all of these paving projects were undertaken, they would furnish work for more than 1,000 men for many months to come and, when the work was completed, it would be a permanent improvement which would last for years.

The W. P. A. has refused to approve this work, although it cannot be conceived what would be the reason for refusing such approval.

The city of New Castle has also asked for the assignment of engineers and draftsmen by the W. P. A. to the project of making plans for more projects. The city takes the position that if it has not been able to plan projects that will be approved by the W. P. A., it might be well for the W. P. A. to furnish some engineers who would work out some projects that would meet with the approval of the W. P. A. and so provide more and more work.

In the meantime, however, the city council feels that the projects which are already approved and which would give employment to 961 men until the first of April or later should be proceeded with without further delay.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m., November 1, three arrests on charges as follows: Drunkenness 1, drunkenness and disorderly conduct 1, and soliciting alms 1.

Robert M. White, solicitor for the city of New Castle today stated that he proposes to try in some way to have the WPA arrange for the paving of streets here, property owners last summer having petitioned for the improvement of approximately two dozen thoroughfares. According to reports there ensues some considerable delay in other circles after the local WPA officials approve of projects submitted by the city. Several days ago director of property, Joseph D. Alexander who purchases practically all the material required for city projects put through by the WPA said a better understanding exists between both city and the WPA.

Owners of billboards who may have objections to the amendment to the billboard ordinance will have an opportunity of stating their objections on Monday when members of city council convenes in city hall. Some time ago members of council toured the city and studied themselves dissatisfied with the manner in which some billboards had been erected and demanded changes be made to conform with the law or the billboards should be removed. At the same time an amendment to the billboard ordinance was submitted and it has been approved by the commission on city planning. Before the amendment is passed finally Monday, the owners of the billboards will be given a chance to state their views.

Equipment by which police will be able to talk from a cruiser car to police headquarters has been received, it was reported today. After Sergeant Wayne Sines installs the new equipment a demonstration will be made. If the system works out satisfactorily prospects of equipping all cars are bright.

DID WE FALL FOR A "RACKET"?

BURNS & McDONNELL EXPOSED IN AKRON

(See Akron Beacon-Journal, October 23, 1935)

Should any of our citizens think our letters have "razzed" our city officials too vigorously for permitting New Castle to be IMPOSED UPON BY INTERESTED PROMOTERS of the $1,500,000 bond issue, we hope they will read the following news story about Burns & McDonnell, which broke in Akron last week.

We want it understood that we have not and do not now accuse ANY official or citizen of New Castle of dishonesty in their relations with Burns & McDonnell, the engineering firm whom the city employed at the request of the "Electric Consumers League" and to whom $8,800 of PUBLIC FUNDS was paid.

But it NOW appears that there was the SAME disregard for ORDINARY BUSINESS PRECAUTION and procedure in employing Burns & McDonnell as has been the case with ALL the steps that HAVE BEEN TAKEN in connection with the proposed $1,500,000 "Increase of Indebtedness" in New Castle.

The City of Akron, Ohio, employed Burns & McDonnell and paid them $15,500 for "engineering service".

Last week (October 23) the Akron Beacon-Journal printed a front page exposure of illicit financial relations between Burns & McDonnell and an Akron political machine headed by one Dr. Oscar Hayes. This front page article carried a photostat copy of a letter sent by Burns & McDonnell's representative, one H. J. Rosson, to R. E. McDonnell, president of Burns & McDonnell.

We are reprinting herewith an exact copy of the letter as printed in the Akron Beacon-Journal of Oct. 23, 1935.

Note the significant paragraphs:

"I had this in mind when I made the total amount (the cost to the city) $15,500, instead of $15,000", and

"... what amount (do) you believe we would be justified in DISTRIBUTING?"

Had OUR officials taken the trouble to INVESTIGATE, they would have quickly ascertained the following facts about Burns & McDonnell, whom they employed and to whom they paid $8,800 of New Castle taxpayers' money. They would have FOUND:

- (1) That Burns & McDonnell are NOT DISINTERESTED FACT-FINDING engineers, but are engineering PROMOTERS of municipal electric businesses.
- (2) That R. E. McDonnell was formerly the vice president, is now a director and prime moving spirit in the "PUBLIC OWNERSHIP LEAGUE OF AMERICA", located at Chicago, and which has been called the "Sales and Propaganda Organization" for Burns & McDonnell.
- (3) That the PAID SECRETARY and "ORATOR-EXTRAORDINARY" for Mr. McDonnell's "Public Ownership League of America" is none other than one CARL D. THOMPSON OF CHICAGO, the SAME Carl D. Thompson who has recited poetry and wrung tears from New Castle audiences on TWO occasions within the PAST TEN DAYS.

When seeking an engineering firm to investigate electricity costs in New Castle, did our City officials seek a DISINTERESTED FACT-FINDING engineering firm, or were they DETERMINED to employ engineers whom they KNEW were PROMOTERS of municipal electricity businesses?

Possibly they didn't THINK that far. Possibly they fell for one of the "patent medicine" advertisements of the Thompson-McDonnell "Public Ownership League of America". Here is one of the League's typical advertisements:

"Our research department gives you the facts. Our speakers and publicity men conduct your campaign so you may be sure to win. Our legal department draws your ordinances so they will stand in court and will fight your legal battles if necessary. Our ENGINEERS build your plants."

Who are the "ENGINEERS" referred to? Who IS the "Public Ownership League of America"? Ask Burns & McDonnell.

Last week's exposure of Burns & McDonnell in Akron, this week's exposure of New Castle citizens to Mr. Thompson's tear-jerking oratory and to the "factless propaganda" of the "Electric Consumers League" leads many of our citizens and taxpayers who paid the $8,800, to ask the question:—

"Miss America" Will Not Allow Undraped Statue

Miss Henrietta Leaver, Of Pittsburgh Threatens To Bring Suit

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 2.—Seven prominent Pittsburgh art experts today shouted a loud "no" to the demands of Henrietta Leaver, Miss America of 1935, that a nude statue made of her by Frank Vittor, the sculptor, be draped.

Although Miss Leaver threatens legal action if the statue is exhibited undraped, the artists praised it to the last man and scornfully accused her of being "old-fashioned."

"It would spoil the whole statue to cover it; it wasn't designed for drapery," said Raymond Simboli, Carnegie Institute of Technology painting professor.

Threatens Suit
Joseph Bailey Ellis, another Tech professor, said draperies would make the statue only more suggestive; Sue Watson, sculptress, declared Miss Leaver had "foolish, old-fashioned ideas," and Major Henry H. Leggett, an architect, charged her with "belittling what won her the prize."

Artists or no artists, Miss Leaver demands the statue be draped, her business manager, George Tyson, said, but Vittor prepared to cast the plaster in bronze and exhibit the statue.

"Let them sue," was his only comment.

M. E. MINISTERS MAKE PROTESTS

Rev. J. B. Edwards of Emlenton and Rev. F. H. Frampton of Chicago were members. The resolutions urged that the Sunday movie vote be taken to defeat the Sunday movie vote at next Tuesday's election, and viewed "with alarm" the increase of highway accidents as the result of drunkenness and the advertising over radio and by billboard of liquor.

Rev. Colley Presides.
With the new district superintendent, Rev. Thomas B. Colley, presiding, the conference was opened at 9 a. m. and continued throughout the day.

Rev. L. S. Cass of Grove City served as chaplain through the day. Rev. M. M. Mook of New Wilmington was the host pastor and the conference gave him a hearty vote of thanks for his splendid service in that capacity.

Rev. A. C. Locke of Franklin gave "Fore-gleams of the General Conference" at the morning session. Other speakers were Rev. C. H. Hauger, pastor of the Croton M. E. church of New Castle; Rev. C. H. Hagadorn, pastor of the Mahoning M. E. church of New Castle, and Rev. J. A. Cousins of Sharon.

Luncheon was served at noon by the Ladies Aid of the New Wilmington M. E. church and in the evening by the Ladies Bible class, with places set for 100.

In the afternoon the speakers included Rev. I. C. Koonce of Polk, Rev. F. S. Neigh of New Castle, Rev. N. A. White, pastor of the First M. E. church of New Castle, Rev. M. M. Mook and Rev. H. B. Davis of Sharon.

Licensed To Preach.

A committee on recommendations and license to preach, composed of Rev. A. C. Locke of Franklin, Rev. J. A. Galbraith of New Castle and Rev. L. E. Elbel, asked that William R. Vaughn of the corner of Lorain and Haus avenues, New Castle, be licensed to preach. The body voted its assent.

Aev. C. H. Hagadorn, new pastor of Mahoning church, New Castle, was elected secretary of the Grove City district, succeeding Rev. V. L. Bloomquist, who was transferred from this district to Pleasantville.

Dr. Colley gave a splendid address in the evening on the subject "Believe in a God That Believes."

It was agreed to meet next spring in the Volant M. E. church of which Rev. Earl Thompson is pastor.

Music in the evening was furnished by the junior mixed chorus of the New Wilmington high school, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Rose.

While the ministers were in session during the afternoon, their wives met in the home of Mrs. T. L. Ashcom, 102 West Neshannock avenue, at 1:30 o'clock and enjoyed a splendid program. Mrs. J. A. Galbraith of New Castle was the presiding officer.

Mrs. Milo M. Mook was elected secretary-treasurer of the women's organization, to fill a vacancy.

Mrs. Hauger Speaks.
Mrs. C. H. Hauger of New Castle gave an excellent address concerning a trip she had made to Palestine several years ago. Music was furnished by Miss Ruth Galbraith of New Castle, a senior student of Westminster college, and a number of her associates in the music department.

Resolutions in appreciation to Rev. and Mrs. Mook and the people of their church, and in welcome to Rev. Thomas B. Colley on his appointment to the Grove City district, and in gratefulness to the committee planning the thought provoking program, were approved by the body. They pledged their hearty cooperation to Rev. Colley in his "leadership of the district to higher standards of Christian living."

TEACHER REFUSES TO SALUTE FLAG, GIVEN DISMISSAL
(International News Service)
CANNONBURG, Pa., Nov. 2.—Her refusal to lead her pupils in a salute of allegiance to the American flag because of religious beliefs today had cost Miss Grace Estep her second grade teaching job.

Acting in accordance with an opinion by Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti, the school board voted unanimously for her dismissal November 7. Ross A. Mitchell, the principal, reported the teacher stood by in silence while her pupils pledged their allegiance to the flag.

CHILD INJURED WHEN HIT BY AUTO
While playing near the corner of Wilmington and Leasure avenues, Friday afternoon at 4:30 little Oliver Hoch, aged 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver G. Hoch, of 1111 Wilmington avenue, ran out into the street and was struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. W. H. Montgomery.

Bond Issue Referendum
On the bottom of the official ballot is the referendum on proposed increase of the bonded indebtedness. It reads as follows:

"Shall the indebtedness of the City of New Castle be increased in the sum of fifteen hundred thousand ($1,500,000.00) dollars for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and beginning to operate a plant, equipment and other facilities for the distribution, rendering and furnishing to the public of electricity and electric services and of supplying electricity and electric light to the said city and to such persons, partnerships and corporations therein as may desire the same, at such prices as may be agreed upon; and for that purpose to make, erect and maintain the necessary buildings, machinery and apparatus for distributing electricity and electric light?"

Opposite the above are two squares. If you are in favor of increasing the indebtedness you mark your ballot opposite the word "Yes." If you are opposed, you mark opposite the word "No."

In addition to the regular ballot there will be a special ballot on which you will register your sentiments on the question of Sunday movies. If you favor picture shows open on Sunday you vote "Yes"; if not you vote "No."

VOTE DEMOCRATIC!

When the hirelings of private monopoly are forced by weight of reasonable adverse public opinion to adopt such reprehensible tactics as those used by certain local leaders and candidates of the Republican Party during the ensuing campaign, it is time that the Citizens of New Castle and Lawrence County be informed of the corrupt falsity of some of the charges made.

Among other things, it is charged that the employees of the Works Progress Administration are being coerced to vote Democratic. This assertion is absolutely and unquestionably a piece of sordid, villifying propaganda designed to becloud the minds of the voters and raise false issues. For what purpose?

Simply because the Democratic Party has thrown down the gauntlet to its opponent on the Real Issues—Social Justice and Economic Security. There are no others.

If you desire relief of human misery and suffering to cold cash money in the hands of a very limited few who use it solely to further their personal avaricious ambitions;

If you desire the H. O. L. C. instead of Sheriff Sales;

If you desire the abolition of monopoly and unfair competition in business;

If you desire Justice for Labor, such as has been propounded in the Wagner Labor Disputes Law;

If you desire that the people of the United States shall BY BALLOT ordain their officials who shall govern for them rather than be bound by the tentacles and chains and shackles of organized wealth and private monopoly, then;

Support Roosevelt and Earle by making it possible for them to better cooperate with our local government.

Vote the Straight Democratic Ticket.

Elmer D. O'Neill, Treasurer.

For CITY TREASURER
Joseph W. Hahn

The office of City Treasurer is entirely ministerial, rather than executive in its capacity, and Joseph W. Hahn is highly qualified, by education, training and experience, for the position. His 11 years as assistant superintendent of the Standard Steel Car Works, in charge of production and payroll index, until this industry was removed from the city, gives him the necessary background of training and experience for this position. Later he engaged in the automobile business, being in charge of the mechanical department, both as a garage proprietor and as a dealer.

Mr. Hahn has been a resident of New Castle for the past 32 years, a property owner and taxpayer for the past 28 years. He is 50 years of age, and for the past three years, due to economic conditions, he has been unemployed. Always active in party and civic affairs.

Help bring the NEW DEAL to the City Building by voting for Joseph W. Hahn for City Treasurer.

ALBERT A. HOYLAND

ALBERT A. HOYLAND NOT in Favor of BOND ISSUE!

When I took office on January 7th, 1932, and for a long time before, there had been a persistent demand among the tax payers for lower electric light rates. At that time 20 cents of every tax dollar was being paid to the Electric Company for street lights.

The Law of Pennsylvania provides that the Public Service Commission shall have full authority and jurisdiction over electric rates. In order, therefore, that the city might present the true facts to the Public Service Commission, the Council employed competent engineers to get the facts and information for the City as fully as they were had by the Electric Company. We did not feel that we should depend entirely upon the company for the facts and figures.

When the engineers had reported all the facts and figures and the rate case before the Public Service Commission was well under way, the Electric Consumer's League began to insist upon an election on the question of a Bond Issue. They based their claim on a petition signed by several thousand taxpayers.

Council undertook to have this organization postpone their request until the rate case was completed, but they were insistent that the election should be held in September. This was refused because a vote on a Bond Issue would not be legal at the Primaries. The League was asserting its right to be permitted to vote on the question and never more than a very few people ever came to Council to oppose such an election.

I am and always have been opposed to a Bond Issue. I have insisted at all times that while the rate case was pending, it was expedient to have a vote on the Bond Issue. But I recognize the right of a considerable number of voters to be permitted to vote on a public question if they assert that right.

I favor the best rates for electricity that we can obtain and I insist that electric rates ought to be uniform and equal to all the people of the city.

I believe that the Public Service Commission will require the company to give fair rates if the city presents its case fully and accurately.

I am opposed to the Bond Issue for the following reasons:
1st. This is not the time for the city to borrow money for any purpose.
2nd. The Public Service Commission would not probably permit the city to erect a new plant.

3rd. The law provides no way whereby the city can condemn the plant of the Electric Company.
4th. The agitation over the Bond Issue must necessarily interfere with and becloud the issue of the rate case.

I believe the Power Company desires to put into Council men who will not support the present rate case or insist upon fair electric rates. They want the whole matter dropped. I am against the Bond Issue. I am for fair and equal electric rates. The Power Company cannot very well tell the people this. They have therefore asserted and alleged that I am in favor of the Bond Issue. In this way they hope to defeat me and place in Council their own "yes" men, who will let the whole question of electric rates drop.

(Political Advertisement)

To The Voters Of The City Of New Castle

I am a candidate for Mayor of our City, on the Independent Ticket, election to be held on Tuesday, November 5, 1935.

You will recall my being a candidate for Mayor on the Democratic Ticket, along with my other colleagues on the same ticket, this nomination being won by the late Peter P. Capitolo, who was the successful nominee of the party. The rulings of the Democratic party provide, that in the event of a vacancy, that such existing vacancy shall be filled by the Democratic Committeemen, and in this case, only City Committeemen would be privileged to cast their ballot. None of my running mates have been selected to represent the party, but on the contrary, the present democratic nominee was selected to the prejudice of those who sacrificed their energies and finances for a period of a year preceding the primary, and yet, no consideration was given any of us.

WAS THIS METHOD OF SELECTION FAIR AND JUST?

Respectfully yours,

Plan For Enlarging Alexandria Harbor

(International News Service)
ALEXANDRIA, Nov. 2.—The belief in Egyptian political circles that Alexandria is being groomed as a permanent naval base for the Egyptian fleet was strengthened today when it was learned that the government has decided to proceed immediately with enlarging the harbor.

The Egyptian government has allotted $5,000,000 to start work, and has summoned Sir Cyril Kirkpatrick, famous bridge constructor and former chief for the port of London authority, from England to supervise the task.

The width of Roman wagons in antiquity may have determined the standard gauge of railways today, 4 feet 8½ inches, in this way. The first railway builders of England placed the rails at the distance apart which enabled them to carry coaches of the same width as the stage coaches and wagons of their day and according to tradition the width of these vehicles were inherited from that of ancient Rome.

Road mileage in Great Britain is now nine times that of railways.

TO THE CITIZENS OF NEW CASTLE

The published advertisements of the "Electric Consumers League" have erroneously referred to statements on the bond issue question, made by the "Taxpayers Executive Committee", the "Non-Property Owners Protective Association", and other groups of citizens and taxpayers as "TALL STORIES OF THE POWER COMPANY."

We deem it necessary to repeat the statement made in our advertisement of October 21:

"The only so-called 'propaganda' on the bond issue question which the Pennsylvania Power Company has issued, which it intends to issue, or for which it is in any way responsible, is our 'Questions and Answers' leaflet, and advertisements appearing over our own name."

"We are glad to furnish the 'Electric Consumers League', the 'Taxpayers Executive Committee', the 'Non-Property Owners Protective Association', any other group of citizens, or any individual citizen any facts we may have which would be helpful to them in considering or discussing the question, but other than this we cannot participate in the matter for the reasons stated in our advertisement of October 8th."

The statements made in our advertisement of October 8th were:

"Our Company and our 250 employees naturally are vitally interested parties in the proposal to bond the city for $1,500,000 for the purpose of acquiring or establishing a municipal electric power business."

"It would mean wiping out the investment of our stockholders, 69% of whom are residents of the area we serve."

"To our 250 employees who are New Castle citizens, it would mean loss of the means by which they support themselves and their families."

"But important as the question is to us, we do not wish to invite the criticism to which many utility companies have been subjected for too actively and aggressively participating, financially and otherwise, in campaigns to prevent the destruction of their property and organizations."

"The question is one which the voters of New Castle alone are to decide, and we who are interested parties will endeavor to confine our participation in the controversy to the furnishing of such factual information as any individual citizen or group of citizens may desire."

The above is what we SAID we would do. The above is what we HAVE DONE, statements of the "Electric Consumers League" to the contrary notwithstanding.

Scottdale Man Is Fatally Wounded

(International News Service, GREENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 2.—Otto Burke, 45, Scottdale, became Westmoreland county's first hunting fatality today when he was instantly killed by a charge of buckshot fired into his right side by a fellow hunter.

The fatal shot was said to have been fired accidentally by George N. Miller, Latrobe, who also was hunting in a wooded section near Latrobe on his own property.

Burke was accompanied by Joseph Minsterman, Scottdale, when he suddenly fell to the ground. The shot entered his right side and arm.

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

May I ask the pardon of the voters that I have been unable to see, and to those who are not acquainted with me I offer the following: I have been a lifelong resident of New Castle and Lawrence county; a taxpayer for 42 years; raised a family of three children; had a son, Robert G. Hamilton, in the World War.

I have had over 27 years experience in office routine and accounting and am admirably fitted for the position. With this may I ask for your support and influence on Nov. 5.

POWERS for Judge

The most comfortable feeling that can be entertained in reference to any judge and the administration of the duties of his office is; that there exists the right relationship between him and the members of the bar. It is an ugly situation when there are those among any bar, suspected of enjoying the special favor of the court. It is equally disconcerting when there are those who have incurred the court's disfavor. Nobody wants to entrust his case to the ablest of lawyers, if there is the feeling that it is not possible for that lawyer to have an even break. One who hopes to be judge owes it to all concerned to see to it that no such situation is created and the time to stop it is before it ever begins. In line with what I conceive to be the highest conception in that respect, I have not at any time put a single member of the Lawrence County Bar in the position of having to say "Yes" or "No" with respect to my cause. I have asked no member of the bar for his vote or his support. The lawyer gets his livelihood, from his practice before the court. His vote is his individual business—more so than is the case in any other instance. The correctness of this view is even now apparent in my own position. Is it not a fact, that among all those whose concern seems to reach beyond the result of the election, there are none at all whose apprehension arises out of the possibilities of my position. Make no mistake, however, about the lawyer vote, for if the Recording Angel were to keep the score, it is not I, who would be surprised.

I will deliver a closing message on Monday evening, speaking from Radio Station WKBN (570 Kilocycles) at 10 o'clock.

THIS TIME, LET'S ELECT STEVENSON

Four years ago W. Grover Stevenson was the Democratic nominee for county commissioner and was defeated by a narrow margin. Since that time voters have said that a mistake was made. Let's not make the same mistake this time. Electing a county commissioner is merely hiring a manager. Stevenson has managed his own business affairs successfully. As a matter of fairness the Democratic voters should support Stevenson this time. As a matter of good government the Republicans should be interested in seeing that he is elected. As a matter of good business all of us should be interested in his election to office.

By educational background, by business experience, by any yardstick of ability, Stevenson is fitted for the office. Let's not make a mistake this time, let's elect,

NEW CASTLE HIGH AND CHARLEROI TIE 7-7

"Red Hurricane" Finally Halted

Charleroi Scores On Pass With Minute And Half Left To Play

Eddie Donegan Scores For New Castle, Toscano Stars, Adamo Through

LEVEN ferocious Cougars wearing the colors of Charleroi high school last night battled and clawed their way into the lime-light by holding a heretofore unbeaten New Castle "Red Hurricane" football machine to a 7-7 deadlock. A crowd of 5,000 fans sat stupefied late in the fourth period when a supposed subbed Charleroi team came to life and forward passed to a score. The incredible had happened quicker than you can bat an eye lash. This being a Class AA conference game, the New Castle team will probably be eliminated from the running.

It was the game of games as far as Charleroi high was concerned. The celebration that followed the tying of New Castle's "Red Hurricane" took on the aspect of a Armistice day. Bells clanged, stipes sprang, students yelled themselves into a state bordering on larceny. Meanwhile a dejected New Castle high team dressed slowly. Not beaten, but tied, and the championship probably going the way of all good W. P. A. L. champions.

New Castle Fights

New Castle high went into the game fighting, and they came out fighting. Two of the New Castle varsity men Dal Mumford and P. W. Nocerla had to be carried off the field. The Charleroi boys were hitting hard. They wanted to win, but they were satisfied with the deadlock. It wasn't a "dirty" game. Just good, hard blocking and tackling. New Castle high put up a fine battle, but the Cougars were cunning, and although apparently "through" in the final minute of play, came up with a dying punch and it proved successful.

It was a typical New Castle-Charleroi engagement. The first downs were even at eight apiece. The New Castle team used up 11 punts and Charleroi used up eight. The game was similar in a good many respects to the game played by the same two teams at Charleroi two years ago. Charleroi was primed for New Castle.

A young hero arose out of the game, in fact a couple of heroes. Joe Costanza who sits on the Charleroi bench and watches most of the time was called upon last night in the "pinch" after Charleroi had scored.

Sub Is Hero

Costanza's specialty is kicking points after touchdowns. The youngster hadn't been in the game long enough to tie his shoe laces on the opening kickoff, which he booted, when he was yanked out and Kopach sent in.

Coach Stephanian looked along the bench following the touchdown made by the Cougars. Up jumped Costanza, they were ready for his act. He was eager. He was tense. What a spot. Charleroi trailing 7 to 6 and a minute left to play. Costanza raced on the field. He was cool. He had to be. He carefully measured the kicking distance. The ball was snapped back. The toe of Costanza's size 10 shoe banged into the pignin and it sailed straight and true over the goal posts. Bedlam broke loose in the Charleroi stands. You could have heard a pin fall in the New Castle section. Kicking that extra point had turned the battle all even. A minute to play.

There was only time for the kick-off and a few plays and the game ended with New Castle having the ball, and with Cabas clicking off a first down just as the whistle sounded.

Donegan Scores

Toward the end of the first period Eddie Donegan on his famous "cut back" play slipped over for the New Castle touchdown from the 10-yard stripe. Donegan scored standing up. He zigzagged his way through the Cougars on a beautiful play. Harry Toscano booted the extra-point and it was New Castle 7 and Charleroi 0.

With seven points on the right hand side of the ledger, the Bridenbaughs tried to work to try and protect that lead. No open playing. Kick often and make the Cougars run the ball. New Castle punted four times in the first half and the Charlerois used but two punts. Dal Mumford was booting them high, wide, and handsome.

Mumford was injured on the touchdown play which the Charlerois made. He was carried off the field.

Things didn't look so good for New Castle in the early stages of the first period when after recovering a New Castle fumble on the New Castle 21-yard line, the Cougars with Waggoner, Kopach and Baker carrying the ball reached the New Castle 4-yard line before being halted.

The touchdown made by Donegan came after a Charleroi man had fumbled on the New Castle 33-yard line. A steady march down the field and Donegan was over. Engs had a big part in the advance toward the goal, clipping off a nice 25-yard dash to the Charleroi 27-yard line. Donegan and DeCaprio played a big part in the march down the field.

Peculiar Play

With a seven-point lead the New Castle team started to punt. It was a punting duel. A peculiar play occurred at the start of the second period. It was Charleroi's ball on their own 15-yard line. Kopach dropped back to kick. He missed the ball altogether and Charley Probst, the big tackle, scooped up the ball and raced over the goal line. The officials ruled it a fumbled ball and not eligible to be run. Probst's run was in vain. It was a fine play, however, and had the fans excited.

The Charlerois put on a spurt in the last seconds of the first half by completing a forward pass, Waggoner to Mahovich, on the New Castle 10-yard line. Then the whistle blew.

Neither team did a thing in the third period except run a few plays and then kick. Each team used four punts in the third period. New Castle was trying hard to protect

Arrowsmith Will Captain Titans In Today's Game

ARROWSMITH

NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 2.—Coach Gilbane announced that Robert Arrowsmith, senior quarterback from Erie, would captain the Titans in their game today with Edinboro Teachers eleven.

A last minute shift in the Titan lineup brought about the replacement of Jones at center by Auld, starting his first game for Westminister. Jones, Lowellville, junior, although light for the center position, has held down the pivot job throughout the season, playing consistently well.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Primo Carnera, former heavyweight champion, gained a technical knockout over Walter Neusel in the fourth round of a bout scheduled to go 15 rounds at New York last night. The German rushed the Italian and suffered from Carnera's right hand uppercuts. In the fourth a punch opened a bad gash above Neusel's right eye and he quit. It was the second technical knockout Neusel suffered in 63 professional fights and was the fourth time he lost.

Although yesterday was quite warm for hunting, hunters report rabbits and birds plentiful. Quite a few squirrels also were bagged. When daylight broke, hunters could be seen in all sections of the county and many of them sought game until almost dark.

Aubrey Epps, Pittsburgh Pirates catcher, critically ill with pneumonia, was reported resting easily yesterday in a Memphis hospital. Halloween pranks played on Epps, Ark. high school football players in jail for several hours. As a result today's game with Norphlet, Ark., was cancelled and the rest of the games for the season called off. Sharon Union high won the district grid title by beating Warren P. Central, 19-14 at Sharon.

Martins Ferry High Is Next

Martins Ferry high is next for the New Castle high "Red Hurricane" football team. The game here next Saturday has a lot of appeal. It is to be "New Castle Day". Big plans are in the making for showing Martins Ferry a real welcome.

The game next week will be the first day battle at home this year.

Adamo Is Given Gifts By Team

Albert "Blackie" Adamo Plays Final Game For New Castle High

There were real tears all right in the eyes of Albert "Blackie" Adamo last night in a Pittsburgh restaurant as the members of the New Castle High School "Red Hurricane" football team gathered him and presented him with a few gifts in honor of his 20th birthday. Adamo was so choked up with emotion that he could hardly speak.

Harry "Kaiser" Toscano, was the orator who presented the gifts to Adamo. Toscano praised Adamo very highly. Adamo was missed by the New Castle team. He played a whale of a game last night in his last scholastic battle. Toscano played his heart out last night to bring home a victory for his co-captain fellow team mate in his last game.

Says Poll Shows Roosevelt Would Not Win Today

Report Of Poll In Country
Shows President Losing
In Popularity

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—President Roosevelt would not be re-elected if the nation went to the polls tomorrow, according to the analysis issued today by the American press and publishers' autocratic service of the polls in a poll which country and farm newspapers are conducting under their sponsorship.

Of the 126,012 ballots which have been returned to these newspapers by their readers, Roosevelt has a majority of 61,428 to 54,597. But the states which are less populous and are the ones which are voting heavily in this poll.

The analysis of the electoral votes involved give the Republican candidates 233 and Roosevelt 193. The sponsors of the poll point out that no city or industrial center is included. It is purely a country town and farm vote.

Among the Republican candidates favored, Senator William E. Borah is better than a two to one choice. Governor Alf Landon of Kansas is next with Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, third and Herbert Hoover fourth.

President Roosevelt was the overwhelming choice among possible Democratic nominees with Alfred E. Smith second and Senator Carter Glass third in almost negligible proportion.

Thompson Makes Bond Issue Speech

Speaks Before Electric Consumers' League Audience At Court House

LASHES OPPONENTS OF BOND ISSUE

The effort of the Electric Consumers' League of New Castle, leading the move for the $1,500,000 bond issue for a municipal electric light distribution plant here, was unfolded in great detail in a two and one-half hour address which Carl D. Thompson, Chicago, secretary of the Public Ownership League of America, gave before approximately 200 citizens in the No. 1 courtroom at the court house last night.

The audience heard the speaker relate at length the arguments which he said conclusively prove that a public-owned distribution system will reduce taxes and electric rates.

Now and then during the message the national league officer lashed at the Taxpayers' League and the Non-Property Owners' Association, opponents of the bond issue, and frequently he hurled blasts at the Pennsylvania Power Company.

With a copy of the valuation report of the Pennsylvania Power Company on a table before him, Mr. Thompson proceeded in studious fashion to point out the "evils" which he claimed are reflected on its pages. Now and then he struck at the holding company system.

During his address Mr. Thompson recited at length the many different electric light schedules.

Mr. Thompson recited table after table of figures in defense of his statements as to the economical operation of municipal plants elsewhere. Applause met his remarks at intervals.

Presiding over the meeting was the league's president, Attorney Walter S. Reynolds. He presented Mr. Thompson to the audience. Secretary Don E. Huffman of the local league, sat with Mr. Reynolds.

The meeting opened shortly after 7:45 and continued until 10:15 o'clock.

Class To Receive K. Of C. Degree

Sunday afternoon at 2:30 in the Knights of Columbus Auditorium the largest single group of first degree candidates in years will receive the degree work of the order. This large class is one of the results of the Catholic Action drive and also a testimonial to the tireless efforts of the late Peter P. Capitolo, general chairman of all committees. This degree work will be exemplified by the New Castle Council officers, led by Grand Knight Thomas Flanagan. It will start at 2:30 and a large turnout of council members is expected.

On Tuesday evening the council's social committee will hold an election night party for their members and ladies. Arrangements have been made to secure immediate returns from all precincts and in the interim, bridge and 500 will be the diversions. Later a buffet lunch will be served.

Have Roles In School Play

KATHERINE ANDERSON

The senior high school begins its season of student plays in the near future with a stage version of Booth Tarkington's "Seventeen." At this time a number of new faces will appear behind the footlights. Katherine Anderson, daughter of Mrs. Esther Watson Anderson, has been cast for the part of the small sister of the youth who plays the title role. "Kay" is getting a jolly time out of the rehearsals since in her capacity of eaves dropping family pest, she succeeds in being on the stage when many of the dramatic moments occur.

Mary Irene Taylor plays as Ethel Boke, one of the guests at the big dance in which the lovable young man who is "seventeen," sees his first romance die at the hands of an outrageous flirt. Ethel Boke happens to be introduced at the time when the young hero is still struggling valiantly to keep his illusions about the siren who has jilted him. Mary Irene, as Ethel, has a lively time of it trying to hold young "Seventeen's" distracted attention into some semblance of decorous social behavior. And did he but know it, Ethel is a very personable substitute for the loved and lost.

On Court House Hill

During the month of October, 69 marriage licenses were issued at the marriage license bureau as against 202 during October of last year. The big slump is due to the new marriage license law which went into effect on October 1.

Mary Elizabeth Maxwell, 102 Wayne avenue, filed an application at the prothonotary's office for a divorce from her husband, Alex Maxwell, 415 Whipple street, on the grounds of desertion. The couple were married in June, 1927, at Butler, Pa., and last lived together at 406 Highland avenue.

County Treasurer William O. Pitts reports that so far this year about 6,500 hunting licenses have been issued. The exact number cannot be told until reports are in from justices of the peace and aldermen who also grant permits.

Desertion is alleged in an application for divorce filed at the prothonotary's office by Louis C. Kent, of Wampum, against his wife, Aida B. Kent, of 722 Brookline avenue, Pittsburgh. The couple were married at Cheyten in December, 1924. The desertion is alleged to have occurred in November, 1933.

Samuel M. Rice, of Ellwood City, has filed a suit against the Sarah C. Copper estate of which Catherine I. Burns is administratrix, to collect a bill amounting to $128.58. It is claimed that bill is for painting done on houses belonging to Mrs. Copper during her lifetime.

The County of Lawrence, through the county commissioners, has filed an appeal from the award of viewers on four properties on the Youngstown hill. The court has awarded an issue in each case. The properties involved in the dispute are those of Elmer E. Douglass, K. R. Douglass, Rachel Bowden and Rowland R. Peden. Hearings on the appeal will be held before a panel of viewers in each of these cases and awards made which are not satisfactory to the county.

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell has prepared an argument list for November 4. The cases to be argued are as follows: Dr. Oswald Swinney Lowley against Mrs. De Grim Renfro, motion to strike off judgment; Leon A. McNahy against Thomas M. Jones, motion to strike off statement of claim; Paul S. McNahy against Thomas M. Jones, motion to strike off statement of claim; H. A. Waters against Fred Specht, petition to open judgment; First National Bank of New Wilmington against Carrie D. Getty, executor of H. T. Getty, motion for judgment; John Lapotka, for appointment of viewers; The Weideman Company against O. C. Elliott, rule to quash attachment; Rebecca S. Smith against Mary C. French, to stay writ; Commonwealth against Anthony Ross, for new trial; Tony Piplica, motion to strike off costs.

The trouble which some times ensues in getting a deed for property is aptly illustrated in a deed placed on record at the register and recorder's office yesterday. The deed was from Angie Watson Brown and others to Fannie J. Wood Shipper for land in Pulaski township. It was made in connection with the settlement of the estate of the late James E. Scott of Pulaski township, and a record of the heirs who signed and acknowledged it, shows that it had some long rides before it was finally handed to the register and recorder. Here are the names and residences of persons who signed the deed: Angie Watson Brown, Paris, Maine; Craskey Rayburn, Memphis, Tenn.; Clark and Fannie Wallace, Hudson, Ill.; Jennie Wallace, Baltimore, Md.; Louise M. Webber, New Brighton, Pa.; Mary Walker, Beaver Falls, Pa.; Jennie Hill, New Castle; Bartlett Briggs San Francisco Cal.; Kale A. and H. R. Miller Seattle, Wash.; Lucy and C. S. Carpenter, Seattle, Washington; Herbert T. Ewins, Seattle, Wash. In most cases the deed came back to the attorney, Richard Dana, after each person had signed it, and it took around two months to get all the signatures.

Letters To The News

Letters Intended For This Column Must Be Signed With Name And Address Of Writer

EXPRESSES HIS VIEWS

Editor of the New Castle News,
Dear Sir:

Thanking you for the past favors in publishing my letters in your valuable paper I again wish to avail myself of this opportunity to impress my readers with actual facts, plainly visible to all of an open mind, and not dreams of what we perhaps will realize in the future. But the actual fruits of my own years of observation, study, and experience in general at my occupation and in public affairs as an ex-councilman.

So, I again come to you with some most vitally important reminders for all taxpayers whether property owners or not. I appeal to your reason, free from all petty or preconceived prejudices, for you will "all" have to pay the bills whether wise or foolishly contracted by your city or state government, whether you like it or not.

One of the most admirable features of the different types of automobiles we see on our streets is the beautiful and durable color, all applied over a metallic surface and occasionally we see very old models with the original factory paint, the surface badly weathered, but still intact. Our streets are full of metallic signs with the paint firmly attached having withstood years of exposure to the weather. Now come with me up Highland avenue, note the new street signs all painted and erected within the past few months at an enormous expenditure of the taxpayers' money. The concrete posts, the sheet metal, the paint, sign painting and erection, cost of materials and labor, all in themselves a worthy project, provided work for the unemployed and worth paying for providing we receive proper value in return for the enormous cost. But without a single exception every sign erected shows indication of rust underneath the paint and a few are so bad it is impossible for a stranger to read them. They will all have to be replaced within a year at another additional expense and you Mr. Taxpayer will have to pay the bill twice, whether you own property or not. But, you say to me "it's easier to find fault than to suggest a remedy." Well it so happens that the writer is an old painter with over forty years experience and understands the art of painting metal successfully and I will point out the real cause and remedy later in this letter. Now let us go over Rural avenue, another specimen of bad work and wasteful expenditure of the taxpayers' money, and there are several other similar jobs. You know them where they are, I don't need to mention them. They are numerous. These jobs in themselves were commendable, they gave work to the unemployed, and can be listed as improvements, and there would be no criticism if in return for the money spent we had "real" permanent value and benefit, but instead we have had handed to us a lemon, for the work so badly messed up will in the near future have to be done over again at an enormous cost to the taxpayers. But you say "this was R. W. D. work by the Federal or State Government, "yes" but under city supervision and at city expense for materials. Had this work been done by a private contracting company, a bond for faithful performance would have been required and a guarantee of quality work or no pay, and the taxpayers would have received value in return for money spent and any unsatisfactory work would have been the contractors' loss. Why the difference? "Politics!" The main cause of all this bad work is bad management, incompetent, "misfits" square plugs in round holes. To paint those street signs requires an experienced metal painter, not just a handy man jack of all trades, and freedom from bossism.

And this is a fair sample of how in 30 years. So regardless of the statement by city officials and the orators, that is the law, and as such will govern the actions of the present and every succeeding council for the next 30 years. (A dangerous procedure.)

In closing if you feel that the taxpayers money has been unwisely and recklessly spent and bad management shown, then why should they be entrusted with so large a sum $1,500,000.00 to squander and play with? "Vote No" on the bond issue.

Yours respectfully,
EDWARD SHIELDS,
714 Blaine St., City.

A $1,500,000.00 FIRST MORTGAGE ON OUR HOMES

Dear Sir:

This is the legal statement of the real facts in regard to the proposed City Bond Issue. These bonds will be a first mortgage on every parcel of real estate in the City. If default should be made in the payment of the principal, or interest, it could be collected by forced levies on the individual property of the citizens. Such forced levies are now being made in many cities throughout the country.

The receipts from the sale of electricity go into the general fund of the City, in exactly the same way as taxes, or any other funds received by the City. The sinking fund, interest and payment of operating expenses, are appropriated by Council from the general fund received as above.

Whether or not, there is a profit from the operation of the plant is largely a matter of city bookkeeping, and the figures can be juggled to suit the necessities of the Administration in power.

The writer has personal knowledge of the municipal electric light plant at Jacksonville, Florida. The rates are about thirty per cent higher than those charged in New Castle. There should be a substantial profit to the City. What becomes of this profit, however, the people of Jacksonville have been trying to find out for sometime.

The rock on which most municipal plants have been wrecked is, that of politics. Such plants make rich pickings for the political faction in control of the City Government, and this usually becomes a major issue at every municipal election.

There is also a further point, that if we build a municipal plant, the City can receive no taxes from same and will out of pocket the large amount now paid by the private plant. The present private plant employs several hundred citizens, who are taxpayers and property owners of the City of New Castle. What provision is proposed to be made for these citizens? Many New Castle people have lately investigated their savings in stock of the Electric Company. To build a municipal plant would largely destroy their investments.

Finally, if the proposed bond issue is approved, it becomes mandatory upon Council, to become mandatory upon Council, to read the ballot which says, "Shall the City issue $1,500,000.00 of bonds." If you vote "yes" it becomes mandatory upon Council to issue the bonds. In other words, voting in favor of the bond issue, the citizens are irrevocably committed to a municipal electric light plant, and the issuing of bonds (or same becomes mandatory upon Council.

We can't be dragged into this war. The law won't let Mr. Morgan make any bad loans.
